

The FCC should not implement a proposal that would lessen the Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law. I received over 20 calls per week prior to this law. This is now reduced to one or two calls a week. Uninterrupted time at home with my family is very important as is keeping my phone line clear for other family and friends. I urge the FCC not to lessen the impact of this very effective Indiana law.